MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

The Best Material Needed for Council and School Board.

The election for councilmen and school trustees is close at hand and it is time that some movement was made looking to the nomination of the very best material in the city for these important offices. Whether party lines be drawn or a non-partisan ticket be presented, none but citizens of the highest reputable character, whose very names are sufficient to inspire confidence in their ability and direction of municipal affairs, should be put on the tickets. It has long been a custom to depreciate the honor and importance of a city or State legislative office, but a great deal of this is due to the character of men who are chosen to represent these interests. The people are to blame for this by their indifference in the selection of their representatives, and in consequence, men who have established their reputations by their success in their private business, refuse to accept a position of public trust which instead of a reward of profit or honor, brings nothing but annoyance, care, criticism and abuse. It is unnecessary to speak of the urgency of the occasion this year that calls for the services of the best citizens in the city council and also school board, but as it is well known that a man, by his character and conduct, can give dignity to his business or office, and that it is a matter of the greatest concern to the people interested in the prosperity and progress of a city, who it is that has the power to make laws and expend the large sums of money raised in taxes, it is hoped that a nice choice will be made and the people have the courage to give expression to that choice at the polls and then aid and support their representatives in a successful administration of public affairs that will reflect both credit and dignity upon the city and the members elected to the two public boards mentioned.

Vile and Unworthy

of consideration are nostrums of which it is asserted—and there are many such—but they cure immediately bodily ailments of long standing. There are none such that cure Chronic disorders cannot be instantaneously removed. Continuity in the use of a genuine medicine, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will eradicate chronic physical evils. Not the least of these last in the force of its opposition to medicine to constipation, to the removal of which, if persisted in, the Bitters is particularly adapted. Constriction of the bowels is a complaint which should be dealt with early and systematically. So are its usual attendant, liver complaint and dyspepsia. For these, for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, and more recently "in grippe," this highly and professionally commended medicine is an undoubted specific. Nothing can exceed it, moreover, as a means of imparting strength to the feeble and nervous.

City Council.

The City Council, at the meeting on Friday night, had five members present.

Mr. Darnell moved that gas lamps be placed on every street corner, and it was adopted.

Mr. Darnell also moved that two lamps be placed near the work-house, and it was adopted.

A resolution to purchase 400 feet of new hose for the fire department was adopted.

An appropriation not to exceed $500 was made for the expenses of relaying the new floor on the wooden bridge.

On Saturday morning the council again met and passed an ordinance to prevent boys and other people from boarding street cars while in motion, and also providing a heavy penalty for placing obstructions on the tracks.

REV. GEO. O. BARNES.

The First of His Series of Meetings Last Night.

Rev. Geo. O. Barnes, the evangelist, who was announced to come to this city Wednesday, did not arrive until last evening. His engagement at Lawrenceburg detained him until Thursday, and on account of the Democratic jollification which was to have been here that night he postponed the beginning of his meetings in this city until last night, to enable the people to settle down into quietude and pay attentive interest to the preaching of the gospel.

Mr. Barnes' daughters, Misses Marie and Georgie, whose exceedingly sweet voices are a feature of the meetings, accompanied their father to this city. The service at the court-house last night was well attended.

Until further notice the meetings will be held each night at the same place. Although Mr. Barnes has been around the entire globe and received the rapt attention of the most prominent people in nearly all the large cities in this country, he has, nevertheless, since his first successful meeting here in 1882, when his conversions ran up into the hundreds and included Gov. Blackburn and most of the State officials, held Frankfort in especial favor and esteem, and even selected a spot near the Daniel Boone monument, where he has requested that his body, at his death, shall be buried.

Mr. Chas. Carman, from Petersburg, Ill., writes: "I know Salvation Oil to be a very good remedy for neuralgia, rheumatism, burns, toothache and cuts. We are never without it."

Where are They?

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Lexington Transcript, speaking of the resignation of Miss Minnie Mayo Fitzguth as a teacher in the public school of that city, says: She intends to seek new fields and broader paths in the literary life of New York. She and her cousin, Miss Heim, who is usually spent the winter in New York. In collaboration with the artist, Mr. William Maclean, Miss Fitzguth will write a number of magazine articles. Especially interesting will be "Some Kentucky Poets," comprising biographies of both James Lane Allen and Robert Burns Wilson.

In the issue of the Times of Monday was a picture and sketch of Miss Clara Fowler, who has often visited this city as the guest of Mrs. Caswell

Bennett. From the sketch the following excerpt was taken:

Born at Paducah, she is the daughter of Capt. Dick Fowler, formerly the well-known partner of Ed. Norton, she was so unfortunate as to lose her parents when a child, and having, therefore, no fixed home, she has been a welcome visitor in so many households and in so many parts of Kentucky and other States that it is hard to tell where she has the most friends, or what town in Kentucky can with most right lay claim to her, unless it be her birthplace, or perhaps Lexington, where she has lived for the last six years previous to her visit to Virginia.

Rather above the medium height, with a beautiful face, in which white and brilliant red struggle for supremacy, with hazel eyes looking out from under black eyebrows, and with a wealth of dark brown hair above, Miss Fowler most probably appears to the best advantage in the ballroom, where her faultless little figure and her beautiful arms and her grace of bearing, added to the charms of her face, make her one of the most attractive belles in whatever assembly she appears.

It is no small compliment to be selected by an author of Gen. Lee Wallace's reputation, as the embodiment of Esther, her leading female character in Ben Hur, the greatest story of modern times. Upon a young lady of this city, Miss Selena Harris, who visited Crawfordsville, Indiana, the home of Gen. Wallace, the past summer, has that honor been conferred of sitting for a picture of her, of whom, in describing her, the story says:

"With eyes black and inexpressibly soft, a graceful in form, of regular features, rosy with youth and health, bright with intelligence, beautiful with the outshining of a devoted nature, a woman to be loved because loving was a habit of life irrepressible with her."

Gen. Wallace is preparing an elegant volume of Ben Hur for his own private library and the illustrations have been delayed some time awaiting the selection of a suitable type of the picture to represent Esther and to complete the series of female characters in the work. Miss Harris was seen by Gen. Wallace walking on the street in company of a resident of the city, with whom the author was well acquainted, and a police note that evening contained the formal request to sit for Esther. Three different sittings were made and on Saturday they were forwarded to Miss Harris for her inspection and approval. As a work of art they challenge criticism and as a likeness of the original they are perfect. In every feature and superbly shadow forth the lovely daughter of Simonides whom Ben Hur crowns with the love and devotion of his life.

The Louisville Times, of Saturday, contains the pictures and complimentary notices of two young ladies of this city. The picture of one, Miss Ruth Stanton, is fairly good, but the picture of the other, Miss Todd Saffell, is not recognizable.

Of Miss Stanton, in referring to the announcement that she will be married to Mr. George L. Willis, at the Methodist Church, of this city, on December 14th, the Times says:

"Miss Stanton is a lovely girl and the daughter of Post Henry T. Stanton. Her beauty is of the nut-brown kind, her manner is vivacious, and her accomplishments are varied. Last year she represented the Capital City as a Maid of Honor at the Satellites' Ball."

"The wedding is to be a sumptuous affair, and will occur in church. Lieut. Gov. Alford will be best man, and one of Gov. Brown's daughters will be bridesmaid. After a brief bridal trip, Mr. Willis will resume his newspaper labors."

The foregoing was partly erroneous.

It is claimed, and the attendants should have been mentioned as follows:

The Maid of Honor will be Miss Florence Stanton, sister of the bride; the first bridesmaid, Miss Minnie VanDerveer, of this city, and the other bridesmaids, Misses Rose Bryan, of Jeffersontown; Amy Thomas and May Stone, of Louisville; Aeneath Forman, of Fern Bank, Ohio; Evelyn Brown and Kate Halloran, of Frankfort. The groom's best man will be Harris Johnston, of Superior, Wisconsin; the ushers, Oliver Cromwell and Ernest Aroni, of Louisville; Vernon L. Clark and E. L. Stanton, of Frankfort; T. F. Poynter, of Shelbyville; Lieut.-Gov. Alford, of Lexington, and Hon. George H. Alexander, of Louisville. Rev. Scott Willis, of Henry county, brother of the groom, will officiate.

Of Miss Saffell, who was chosen as an attendant at the ball to the Queen of the Satellites, in Louisville this week, the Times says:

"Miss Saffell, the Maid of Honor selected to represent Frankfort, is a handsome brunette of medium height, with large, beautiful, brown eyes and a wealth of brown hair."

In Louisville, where she was educated at Miss Belle Peor's seminary, and where she has often visited her friends, she is as well-known and admired in society as she is at home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Saffell, have for years been among the leaders in all social entertainments in Frankfort, and include in their list of visiting friends many of the most distinguished people of this State, notably Hon. John G. Carlisle and wife, who, when in Frankfort, always make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Saffell. In this way and through exchange visits with Mrs. Carlisle, in Washington City, Miss Saffell has had many social advantages, and will gracefully honor the society event of the Satellites."

In addition to the young ladies mentioned, the same issue of the Times also contained the following notice of a cousin of Mr. Will. P. Hudson, who has often visited Mr. Hudson's sister in this city:

"Harrodsburg, which has always been represented by popular and handsome young ladies, will this year send Miss Minnie Bohon."

This accomplished young lady is already in Louisville, at 311 West Walnut street, where she will remain until after the ball.

Miss Bohon is the daughter of Mr. George Bohon, a leading merchant of Harrodsburg. She attended Miss Baldwin's Female Seminary at Staunton, Va. Miss Bohon has many accomplishments, but in music and elocution she is especially accomplished, and at the seminary took three medals for leading her musical class and one in her elocution class. Miss Bohon has just returned from a long trip to New York, and spent last winter in the South. In Harrodsburg she is considered one of the most beautiful young ladies of that town, which is noted for its handsome women.

Miss Bohon has a very queenly presence, and her perfect grace will make her one of the most conspicuous figures at the ball. She has chestnut hair, violet eyes and regular features, and will undoubtedly make one of the handsomest Maids of Honor at the ball."

A Correspondent Makes a Suggestion to Society on Card Playing.

A correspondent whose mental endowments require more substantial pabulum than that furnished at card parties, makes a very sensible suggestion in the following communication, which is worthy the consideration of the members of the various card clubs:

"Dear Roundabout:

"I find a pleasure in reading your society news because it speaks of people with whom I am well acquainted, but I am sure you will agree with me when I say that such a card craze as that now going on does not reflect the credit upon the society of the city that I know it is entitled to. I do not mean to constitute myself a judge of its effect in a moral point of view, because I believe, despite the rivalry and passion sometimes to secure the prizes, that among our own people who are superior in good sense and character, it is perfectly harmless and simply indulged in just now to excess to kill time that would otherwise hang heavily on their hands. But to my purpose in writing this to you. It seems to me that the stimulus to the intellect in card playing is so small as to make it actually depressing. I would suggest, then, that if so much time as now consumed is to be spent at cards, why not make the prizes books or magazines, instead of useless trinkets or jewelry? Say a good book or periodical is won, the lucky person, after reading it, should be required to pass it in succession to other members of the club. When all have read it, let winner have it or else make the seasonal collection the beginning of a public library for the city. In this way, the aims of the players will be focused on more worthy ends which will furnish besides a large supply of the meeting's conversation in exchange of thought, reading matter for the interludes, and, with many, difficult to fill to advantage."

Miss Kirwin, a favorite wherever she plays, is especially superior in the first female role. Messrs. Frederick, Kohnle, Corey and Drew form a splendid quartet of comedians, and have justly won the liberal praise that has been paid to them. The rest of the casts in the operas named, for both lyric and dramatic power, are equally deserving of particular mention. There will be a matinee to-day, at which Nell Guynn will be presented, and the engagement will close to-night with Mascott. Noteworthy features of the performances are the 'Whistling Coon,' the king of the Harmonica, and female impersonations by the great and only Shaw. Seats are for sale at Guy Barrett's for 50, 35 and 25 cents for night, and 25 and 15 cents for the matinee. Mr. Wilbur's company comprises a very large force of artists and chorus singers, and the low prices which he has fixed for admission to such first-class comic operas entitles him to the encouragement of large audiences for both the matinees and night performances.

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave her the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine." CHARLES A. THOMPSON, Des Moines, Iowa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle, Drugist. 1m

THE WORLD'S FAIR CASE.

Arguments Before the Court of Appeals Thursday.

The arguments before the Court of Appeals in the case of the World's Fair Appropriation were not made Tuesday because of the illness of Judge Pryor, who asked that he be passed until Thursday, in order that he might be present. On Thursday the court-room was thronged with lawyers and Legislators, and Mr. George M. Davis spoke for the Kentucky Commissioners, relying chiefly in his argument on the point that Auditor Norman had not questioned the validity of an act which the officers of the Legislature certify as having passed that body, and the Governor approves as a correct and valid law. Senator Goebel argued for the Auditor on the question of the final passage of the bill, and during his argument was interrupted by Judge Pryor from the bench, who stated substantially that he did not believe the court could go back of the certified records of the Legislature, but that the Auditor certainly had the right to obtain a judicial construction of an act before authorizing the payment of money out of the treasury. Yesterday Judge Alex. P. Humphrey concluded the argument for the Commissioners, and Gov. Knott for the Auditor, the latter resting his argument on the unconstitutionality of the appropriation, as set out in section 177 of the Constitution, as follows:

"The credit of the Commonwealth shall not be given, pledged or loaned to any individual, company, corporation, municipality or political subdivision of the State; nor shall the Commonwealth become an owner or stockholder in, nor make donation to, any company, association or corporation."

The case was submitted, and it is probable that a decision will be written and delivered some time next week.

As the Legislature is likely again to adhere to its former position as to what constitutes the final passage of a bill, backed by the weight of authority and long precedence, the Court of Appeals, now having the question fairly before it, ought not to shrink from a full decision that will settle once for all time a matter of such importance, both to the present Legislature and in the interests of the tax-payers, whose money is involved to such a large amount in the case at issue, as well as in the many other bills that will come up for consideration by the present and succeeding General Assembly.

Social Events.

The Capital Literary Society was entertained Tuesday evening by the Misses Gailbraith, South Side.

Miss Mary Ely entertained a few friends at tea Tuesday in honor Mr. Wm. P. Hudson and bride. Refreshments were served after the game.

Mrs. Sam. D. Johnson entertained the Ladies Afternoon Euchre Club Wednesday. There were seven tables and twelve games were played. Five of the ladies, Mrs. Caswell Bennett, Mrs. Will Hudson, Jr., Mrs. W. F. Dandridge, Mrs. Chas. E. Haft and Mrs. S. B. Holmes, scored eleven games and cut for the prizes, the highest falling to Mrs. Bennett and next highest to Mrs. Hudson, the former taking the first prize, an after dinner coffee spoon and the latter the second prize, a silver hat pin. The rest of the club were Mrs. John McMullen, of California; Miss Margaret Lyons, of Missouri; Mrs. Will P. Hudson, Mrs. John W. Headley, Miss Lizzie Hudson, Mrs. John W. Headley, Mrs. Henry P. Duncan, Mrs. Chas. Haft, Mrs. J. B. Hendrick and Mrs. Jno. R. Proctor. The members present were Mrs. L. C. Norman, Mrs. Caswell Bennett, Mrs. S. B. Holmes, Mrs. Nannie Duvall, Mrs. W. J. Unsolicted.

The following testimonial came to us: Kenyon & Thomas Co., Adams, N. Y.: Gentlemen—For the past two years I have suffered terribly with what doctors call eczema. During this time I have consulted several physicians and used a number of well-known remedies but could get no relief, until finally I was urged to give your remedies a trial. I cannot say enough in praise of them. At present I am as well as I ever was in my life and owe my sincere thanks to you for Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and Tea. Any one doubting the sincerity of this testimonial will confer a favor by addressing, very truly yours, N. J. McNABH, Leominster, Mass.

Fail to do Their Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herberich, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Latamie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Many of the wheat crops look badly. The weather has been so dry that much of the grain soon failed to sprout. It is believed, however, that it has not perished and will not grow.

The cribbing of corn and stripping of tobacco is far advanced, and our farmers are in good shape, generally.

On Tuesday, November 8th, several of our young men heard something drop. They used to ride and drive good horses; now they walk. For our Republican friends we feel sorry; but we are glad of it in cases where our Democratic friends bet against their own champion, and to them we can say, in the language of Corporal Tanner, "I told you so."

Millville, Four Corners and Jett have jubilated. Ducker is yet to be heard from.

The people have spoken. Grover Cleveland will be president, and the Democratic party rests under many promises. They have promised to reduce the tariff gradually, to a revenue basis; to reduce the pension system to a basis which shall benefit only deserving Union soldiers and sailors; to build, as rapidly as is consistent with the public good, a respectable navy, &c. All these and many more must be faithfully kept or the people will get up another cyclone. The people have ordered, the people must be obeyed. Now that the agony is over, all parties will strive, as seems best to them, for the welfare of our common country.
